

REVOLT! STUDENT PROTESTS

1968 TO TODAY

THE UNIVERSITY OF RHODE ISLAND
PAFF AUDITORIUM, PROVIDENCE

09/14/18

ABOUT THE EVENT

This one day symposium brings together scholars from an array of disciplines to talk about student protest, both in theory and practice. Panels will cover a range of topics that engage with student protests, both past and present, to examine the ways in which the campus becomes a locus for dissent, expression, and mobilization.

We are excited to welcome our keynote speaker, Dr. Manja Klemenčič, of Harvard University.

EVENT PROGRAM

8:30	Opening Remarks
9:00	Panel 1
10:30	Coffee break
11:00	Panel 2
12:30	Lunch
1:30	Roundtable
3:00	Snack Break
3:30	Keynote

*A full schedule with paper titles can be found on our website

Through collaboration with our partners, we are excited to present the following expansions on our program:

All day displays:

Art by Benjamin Lundberg Torres Sanchez
Materials from the URI Archive

Protest Art: 5:30-7:30

We invite all to join us for a participatory event featuring protest art. Check the symposium website for details.

This symposium is a free event and includes coffee and refreshments. We ask that you register on the website and consider a small donation.

WITH GENEROUS SUPPORT FROM:

COLLEGE OF CONTINUING EDUCATION &
PROFESSIONAL STUDIES
DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH
AFRICANA STUDIES
GENDER & WOMEN STUDIES
RI AFL-CIO

COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES
THE GRADUATE SCHOOL
CENTER FOR THE HUMANITIES
MODERN & CLASSICAL LANGUAGES &
LITERATURES
NEARI

DIVISION OF RESEARCH & ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT
DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY
CENTER FOR NONVIOLENCE
& PEACE STUDIES
GRADUATE ASSISTANTS UNITED

